

STUDENTS FOR DEVELOPMENT

Margaret Nicholls with Samsun Nahar, a nursing professor from the International University of Business Agriculture and Technology. Nicholls spent her internship developing a survey on nutrition for women in Dhaka.

STUDENTS FOR DEVELOPMENT

“This internship has made me want a career that involves traveling and/or living abroad. I am much more interested in working with/for developing countries than I ever was before. It has also made me feel very concerned with Bangladesh in particular and I can see myself wanting to go back and do more work there.”

Margaret Nicholls
Simon Fraser University
Master of public policy, internship in Bangladesh

Designed and managed by the Association of Universities and Colleges of Canada, the Students for Development program was undertaken with the financial support of the Government of Canada provided through the Canadian International Development Agency.