

STUDENTS FOR DEVELOPMENT

Michael Boomer (left) and fellow VIU student Lindsay Kruit (third from left) spent their internship at Ainembabazi Needy Children's Project designing a microfinance lending manual for staff, including Juliet and Dennis.

STUDENTS FOR DEVELOPMENT

“Prior to this internship, I thought governance simply had to do with government, but post internship I see not only what it truly is, but how it is a valuable part of the development process.”

Michael Boomer
Vancouver Island University
Global studies, internship in Uganda

Designed and managed by the Association of Universities and Colleges of Canada, the Students for Development program was undertaken with the financial support of the Government of Canada provided through the Canadian International Development Agency.