

STUDENTS FOR DEVELOPMENT

Tristan Goulden helped design and deliver a second-year course on land surveying during his internship with Mzuzu University in Malawi.

STUDENTS FOR DEVELOPMENT

“ I was surprised to see the number of female students enrolled in the Land Management Department. It is traditionally a male profession, but women are becoming more involved in the land issues in Malawi and they want to take an active role in the land reform process.”

Tristan Goulden
University of New Brunswick
Master's of Science in Engineering, internship in Malawi

Designed and managed by the Association of Universities and Colleges of Canada, the Students for Development program was undertaken with the financial support of the Government of Canada provided through the Canadian International Development Agency.